AT HOME AGAIN.

FRANKLIN HOUSE,

BANGOR, ME.

The undersigned, after a vacation of nearly two years, finds himself once more at his old post of duty in the FRANKLIN HOUSE, which he established more than thirty years ago, and which has grown up under the administration as Landlord, to its present fair proportions and high reputation. Thoroughly refurnished and invigorated, and with more zeal than ever in the discharge of the duties of a landlord, he resumes the direction of this favorite business House which is now one of the best appointed Hotels in Maine.

The position of the Franklin House is exceedingly pleasant and healthy. It is abundantly supplied with all modern conveniences and comforts. It is close to the Post Office, and convenient to the business streets. MR. QUIMBY, who has so long been connected with the establishment, will continue in the position of Chief Clerk.

My thousands of old friends whom I have known and entertained for the last thirty-five years, are cordially invited to visit the FRANKLIN HOUSE, and judge, whether, the grasp of the landlord's hand is not as warm and cordial as it was in the days of many winters and hopes in long-hidden locks.

Very sincerely yours,

WM. D. McLAUGHLIN.

THE AMNESTY ISSUE!

Masterly Speech of Mr. Blaine.

REPUBLICAN MAGNANIMITY VINDICATED---NOTHING AS AGAINST JEFF. DAVIS---HIS RESPONSIBILITY FOR ANDERSONVILLE POWERFULLY MAINTAINED.

In the House on Monday Mr. Randall having forced a vote on his unconstitutional amnesty bill under the "previous question," without giving opportunity for any amendments, the measure failed of the two-thirds by a strict party vote. Mr. Blaine then took the floor, and began his reconsideration of the day's proceedings as follows:

Mr. Speaker: I do not propose to occupy the time of the House for more than a few minutes, but somehow or other I am prejudiced in favor of it. I do not want to impose censorship on the gentlemen.

If I am correctly informed there are some gentlemen on this floor who have spoken with unanimity of thanks for their taking citizenship under the United States, and have spoken with great harshness about their fellow-citizens in the South who have done so. I am informed that Mr. Robert Toombs has made a special boast at the watering places in this country and in Europe, that he would not ask the United States for citizenship. Very well; we can stand that quite as well as Mr. Robert Toombs (laughter), and if Mr. Robert Toombs is not prepared to come into the United States Court and swear that he means to be a good citizen, I think we may safely say that Congress ought to refuse itself or to resolve itself into a joint convention, and to embrace Mr. Robert Toombs soulangly and long enough to run and swear him by oath to book and taking the slightest form of citizenship. Well, what after? My substitute requires that every one of these gentlemen shall show his good faith by taking the oath which all of us take, and are glad to take. That is a very small exaction to make as a preliminary to a full restoration to all the rights of citizenship.

WHY AMNESTY SHOULD NOT BE EXTENDED TO JEFF DAVIS.

In my amendment Jefferson Davis is not by name exempted from its operation. Now I do not place that exception on the ground that Mr. Davis was the leader, as he is commonly called, the head and front of the rebellion, because on that ground I do not think the exception would be tenable. Mr. Davis was just as guilty, no more so, no less so, than thousands of others who will get the benefit of grace and amnesty. Probably he was far less efficient as an enemy of the United States. Probably he was more useful as a disturber of the councils of the Confederacy.

It is not because of any particular or special discourse which he, above others, did to the United States, or because he is particularly of any special consequence that I except him or that I except him on the ground, that he is the nation, knowingly, deliberately, willfully, of the gigantic murder and crime at Andersonville (a murder---and Libby), Libby pales in insignificance as compared to Andersonville. I place it on that ground, and I believe that so rapidly does one event follow on the heels of another in the rapidity in which we live, that even those of us who were contemporaneously cognizant of what was transpiring there, still more those of us who have grown up since, have failed to realize the gigantic crime which was there committed.

THE SHOCKING BARBARITIES OF ANDERSONVILLE.

Since the gentleman from Pennsylvania introduced this bill I have taken the occasion to read some of the historical cruelties of the world. I have read over the details of those atrocious massacres under the Duke of Alva in the low countries, which are mentioned with a thrill of horror through all Christendom. I have read the details of Saint Bartholomew, which stand out as one of the atrocities beyond imagination, and I have, besides, been [illegible] my knowledge that full extent and import, declare that neither the Duke of Alva or Carlos, or Catherine, nor the author of the massacre of Saint Bartholomew, nor the thumb screws and dungeons and atrocities of the Spanish Inquisition began to compare in atrocity with the hideous crime of Andersonville.

Quotation in the hall and galleries, and a remark by Mr. Robbins of North Carolina, inaudible.)

Thank God, Mr. Speaker, this Congress was under different country from that under which it is today; with a committee composed of both parties, that tale of horror was placed where it could not be denied or palmed off as a story, written out by a committee of this Congress, and by the authority I state that Winder, who is now dead, was sent to Andersonville with the knowledge of his previous atrocities, and that those atrocities in Richmond were so bitter, so foul, that the Southern papers, the Richmond Examiner for one, said, when it was done, that they thanked God that [illegible] presence. We in turning skeletons who had not accomplished at Belle Isle or Libby. Fresh from those accomplishments he was sent by Mr. Davis, against the protest of others in the Confederacy, to construct his pen of horrors at Andersonville.

TESTIMONY IN SUPPORT OF MR. BLAINE'S CHARGES.

Of course it would be utterly beyond the scope of the occasion, and beyond the limits of my hour, to give any details. But one---arraigning Mr. Davis. I undertake here to say that I do not ask the gentlemen to take the testimony of a single Union soldier. I only ask them to take the testimony of men who themselves were engaged and enlisted in the Confederate cause, and if that testimony does not entirely carry out and justify this declaration, which I will take the library to read, I will stop; that I have been entirely in error in my reading.

Mr. Blaine then proceeded to quote from the report of the Committee on the conduct of the war extracts in reference to the horrors of Andersonville, in which it is stated that no pen can describe, no painter sketch, no imagination comprehend its fearful, its unutterable infinity. He then said:

I undertake to say, that is a moderate description of Andersonville, and I will now read a paragraph from the testimony of William John Hamilton, a man who never was in the North, a native of Macon, and a Democrat and [illegible] Democrat and, when you unite those [illegible] nalities---a Southern man, a Democrat, a Catholic priest---you will not find much testimony of the Republican party. (Loud and continuous laughter.)

Mr. Blaine here read from the testimony of Father Hamilton as given in the Wirz trial, in which the witness related the case of a young mulatto named Farrell, from the north of Ireland, whom he saw escaping the prisoners at Andersonville suffering very much from a wound on the right foot, which had opened like an ulcer, and which had been completely exposed to the atmosphere. The priest had given him a stocking to cover it in front, and when he returned to the stockade the following week he inquired for Farrell, of his companion. He was told that he had stepped across the dead line and received the ball to shoot him. He added that the man was not insane when he had been for the previous week.

A WHOLESALE MASSACRE ORDERED.

Mr. Blaine then continued: I do not desire to go into such horrible details from any purpose of raising a bad feeling. I desire only to say that the man who admitted to that prison went there by the order of Mr. Davis and was sustained by him, and that this Wm. J. Hamilton, whose testimony I have just read, went to Gen. Howell Cobb, commanding that department, and asked the conditions of the prison should be [illegible] to the Confederate Government at Richmond.

In fact there are a great many instances and proofs to show that Mr. Davis was in entire possession of the facts in relation to Andersonville. When Gen. Sherman's invasion, or some other invasion, of that portion of the country was under way, and when there was [illegible] danger, or supposed danger, that it might come to that neighborhood, the regular [illegible] order No. 13, dated "Headquarters of the Confederate States, Military Prison, Andersonville, July 27, 1864," and signed by Brigadier General Winder, was issued to these words:

"The officer on duty and in charge of the battery of Florida Artillery will, on receiving notice that the enemy has approached within seven miles of the post, open fire on the stockade with grape shot, without reference to the situation beyond this line of defence."

Here were those 35,000 poor, helpless, naked, starving, sickened, dying men. This Catholic priest states that he went to General Cobb to represent to him that if he could not exchange them they should be taken before the Union lines in Florida and paroled and let go free. And yet in the face of these facts we get up [illegible] that regular order of Mr. Davis' officers was to open a battery of grape shot on these poor wretches, without the slightest possible regard to what was going on outside.

THE SOUTHERN ARTILLERY ARRAIGNED.

Now I do not arraign the Southern people for this. God forbid that I should charge any people with [illegible] such a order. There was a [illegible] of great uneasiness among the Southern people at that time, and one of the greatest men of Mr. Davis was that he concealed it from the Southern people. We have obtained copies to series of Mr. Davis' messages, with official [illegible], of Richmond, and they are now in the Congressional Library. I have looked over them, and I find in his message of Dec. 7, 1864, at the very time when these horrors were in their acme, at their extremest verge of desperation, he says:

"The solicitude of the Government for the release of our captive fellow citizens has known no abatement; but, on the contrary, been still more deeply affected by the additional suffering which they have been wantonly subjected by deprivation of adequate food, clothing and fuel, which they have not been allowed to purchase from the prisoners."

And then he adds that the enemy attempt to excuse their barbarous conduct by the unfounded allegation that [illegible] for like conduct on our part".

NO RETALIATION BY THE PRISONERS.

Now I undertake to say that there is not a Confederate soldier now living who has any credit as a man or has any humanity and who ever was a prisoner in the hands of the Union forces, who will say that he was cruelly treated; that he was ever deprived of the same rations which the Union soldiers had, or the same food.

Mr. Cook, of Georgia---Thousands of them.

Mr. Blaine---Well, I take issue on that, and I say that not one can truthfully state it. As for measures of retaliation, though goaded by this utter treatment of our friends in prison by Mr. Davis, the Senate of the United States specially refused to pass a resolution of retaliation as contrary to modern civilization and to the first principles of Christianity. There was no retaliation attempted in [illegible]. It was refused, and Jefferson Davis knew it was refused just as well as he knows it to-day. Because what took place in Washington or what took place in Richmond, of that kind, was known on either side of the line in a day or two thereafter.

NO PROPOSITION TO PUNISH JEFF DAVIS.

Now the whole proposition to punish Mr. Davis. There is no disposition to do it. I very frankly say that I always thought that the ill-treatment of Mr. Davis at Richmond, under the administration of Mr. Johnson, was a weak step, for he was indicted only for treason, which he was guilty in common with every other gentleman who went into the Confederate movement, and therefore there was no particular reason for singling him out for indictment. But I will undertake to say this, and will speak deliberately, that there is not a civilized Government on the face of the globe very certainly not on a European Government, which would not have arrested Mr. Davis, or which, finding him in its power, would not have tried him for ill-treatment of prisoners of war and shot him within thirty days. France, Russia, England, Germany, Austria, any of them, would have done it. The poor victim Wirz deserved his death for the brutal treatment of prisoners, but I always thought it was a cowardly movement on the part of the Government to [illegible] Jefferson Davis to [illegible] large and hang Wirz. Wirz was nothing in the world but a mere subordinate and tool, and therefore there was no philosophy in selecting him for punishment. Still I do not say that he did not deserve it. He did richly deserve it, and no one regrets no more, but at the same time his exemption put me in mind of shipping the President, Superintendent and Board of Directors of a railroad company in the case of a great accident, and hanging the breakman on the rear car. (Laughter.)

There is no proposition here to punish Mr. Davis. Nobody is asking to do it. The time for such a thing is long gone by. The statute of limitations and the common feeling of humanity would intervene for his benefit. But what you are to do is to declare, by a vote of two-thirds of both branches of Congress, solemnly that we consider Mr. Davis unworthy to fill the highest offices in the United States if he can get a constituency to trust him. He is a voter; he can buy one; he can sell; he can go and come. He is free to any man in the United States. There is a long list of subordinate offices to which he is eligible, but this proposition proposes, in a view of the record which I have read, to declare, by a two-thirds vote of the Senate and a two-thirds vote of the House, Mr. Davis is eligible and worthy to fill any other up to the Presidency of the United States. For one, on full deliberation, I will not do it.

It has been frequently said, in mitigation of Mr. Davis in the amnesty matter, that the men who died in such large numbers---the victims I believe number 15,000---fell victims to an epidemic and died of diseases which could not be avoided. The records show that of the 35,000 [illegible] cent. died, that is one [illegible] soldiers who were exempt [illegible] mills of the stockade, and [illegible] but one man in 400 died.

HOW AMNESTY WAS MISTREATED.

Now, as to general amnesty. It is too late to debate it whether it [illegible] speaks both wise or unwise, certain the House in discussing [illegible] had convictions in that [illegible] know that it would be a great good to the [illegible] think it is a very [illegible] Republican party [illegible] power the Government [illegible] back into public power [illegible] the South every one of [illegible] ever bitter, relentless [illegible] and that to-day, from the Rio Grande, the very [illegible] ceived this amnesty act [illegible] know how to be [illegible] company political organization [illegible] slave States are [illegible] the banner blazoned with [illegible] with a united South and [illegible] the North the country can [illegible] want the people to understand [illegible] precisely the wrong, that [illegible] is the animus and intent.

[illegible] RECEIVED

[illegible] yet. It is too [illegible] as in all re- [illegible] shall not be [illegible] tive of any [illegible] at the same [illegible] tle that the [illegible] an of the co- [illegible] rately called [illegible] ding him on [illegible] turns out his [illegible] alignant foe, [illegible] tomahawk, the [illegible] have re- [illegible] busy as they [illegible] ding him on [illegible] company political organization [illegible] The only [illegible] slave States are [illegible] and we see [illegible] the banner blazoned with [illegible] Insignia that [illegible] with a united South and [illegible] wrotes from [illegible] the North the country can [illegible] governed. I [illegible] want the people to understand [illegible] that this is [illegible] precisely the wrong, that [illegible] is the animus and intent.

I do not think that offering amnesty to the 750 men who are now without it will hasten or retard that movement. I do not think that granting amnesty, or refusing amnesty, to Mr. Davis will hasten or retard it. I hear it said that we are going to excite Mr. Davis into a very great consequence by refusing amnesty to him. That is not for me to consider. I only see before me, where his name is presented, the man who, by a wink of his eye, by the wave of his hand, by a nod of his head could have stopped the atrocities at Andersonville. Some of us had kinsmen there. Most of us had friends there. All of us had countrymen there, and in the name of those kinsmen and friends and countrymen I here protest and shall vote with my vote protest against ever calling back and crowning with the honors of full American citizenship the man who organized that murder. (Loud applause on the Republican side of the House and in the galleries.)

MUST WE APOLOGIZE FOR SUPPRESSING THE REBELLION?

In a brief speech to a gathering of Union veterans a few months ago, President Grant declared the soldiers were willing to do everything in their power for the restoration of harmony, but were not quite ready to "apologize for the part they took in maintaining the integrity of the Union." If we may judge by the utterances of ex-Confederates in Congress and their tondying Democratic newspaper organs in the North, the time is rapidly approaching when such an apology will be demanded. The incidents of the pending discussion of the amnesty question and the comments of a portion of the press, must incline those who took part in the struggle for National supremacy to rub their eyes and wonder if the memories of the past are but mislead-ing dreams, and if the strife was in reality between loyalty and treason. Ere the moss has gathered around the base of our soldiers' monuments and before the War Department has completed the task of placing headstones over the graves of the Nation's heroic dead, we have one branch of Congress under the complete control of the most violent leaders of the Rebellion, who have driven out the disabled Union veterans employed at the Capitol; who have introduced measures for the repeal of the pension laws; who are banded together as compactly as during their war upon the Government; who have arrogantly demanded as a right the Congress shall go out of its way to confer all the honors enjoyed by the most loyal citizens upon the men who were most false and treacherous of all and who are still too rebellious to ask for clemency; who have sought to put this indignity upon the Nation by the sheer force of ex-rebel votes, contemptuously repudiating all right to impose any conditions upon the sweeping restoration: and who impudently denounce any suggestion that the blackest traitors of our history do not deserve the highest honors we can bestow.

It seems about time to look about us and see where an over-lavish and mistaken magnanimity is drifting. The speeches in Congress of men lately engaged in open rebellion and the utterances of journals which sympathized with treason throughout the recent strife would convey an impression that the Confederate cause was the one vindicated in the contest, and that loyalty is now on trial with freshly pardoned treason for judge and jury. The defiant upon the "tyranny" which has turned over the Hall of Representatives to a Confederate barracks, while the people who are mourning the Union dead and staggering under war taxes, are compelled to read in their daily papers the harangue of a notorious ex-Senator of the Confederacy, on the floor of the American Congress, defending the horrors of Andersonville, charging worse barbarities upon the Northern people and eulogizing Jeff. Davis as a purer patriot than Ulysses Grant. And this is the "conciliation feast" to which the loyal people of this country are invited! The exasperation elicited by such insufferable effrontery cannot exceed the disgust produced by the Democratic newspaper championship of the insolence and the sickly sentimentality of certain non-script journals which would withhold just rebuke from asserting its dignity for fear of the charge of "re-opening the wounds of the war." If all distinction between right and wrong, between loyalty and treason, between honor and faithlessness, must be wiped out in order to "bury the issues of the war," then it is high time to tear them open afresh, and plant ourselves again on the principles which triumphed on the battlefield.

But what is this terrible action of the Republicans which is bewailed by gentlemen who advocated joining the black flag and butchering all prisoners from the Union armies only a few years ago? Of 18,000 conspicuous rebels placed under only partial disabilities at the close of the war, all but a few hundred have been placed on a footing with the most loyal men and numbers of them are now holding office thoughout the South and in Congress. Who are the distinguished patriots still deprived of immunities and what are the privileges withheld? They are the men under solemn oath of fealty as Senators and members of the 36th and 37th Congresses, the men who held commissions in the United States Army and Navy, men who held judicial offices under the Government, men who were trusted at the head of its Departments and men who were invested with the credentials of the United States at foreign seats of Government, who violated their oaths and while in the service and pay of the United States, entered into rebellion for the destruction of the Union. These men have the right to vote and enjoy all the privileges of other citizens save only that they are ineligible to the U. S. Congress, to act as Presidential Electors or to hold civil or military office, at least under the United States or any State. With their broken oaths still tainting their lips, have they a right to complain of this exclusion?

But the Republicans, under the lead of Mr. Blaine, propose to grant even these men with one exception, a full restoration of privilege, only requiring that they shall go into Court and take an oath of fidelity to the Nation. Even now the disabilities of any one of them may be removed on application by vote of Congress, and one would suppose that to ask for pardon would be a small price for a traitor to pay for rehabilitation. But such organs as the Commercial of this city, whose conductors were equally sympathetic with those rebels during the war, heap insult upon Mr. Blaine and the representatives of loyal sentiment for suggesting any condition whatever and declare it would "humiliate" the chivalrous individuals to take an oath of allegiance. The American Congress must distinguish them by formally conferring unconditionally and unasked the highest immunities and privileges of the American Citizenship which they forfeited by the blackest treachery! We think that even Centennial gush will hardly stand the preposterous insolence of the Confederate Democracy of to-day.

For the exclusion of the arch-traitor, Jeff. Davis, Mr. Blaine presents abundant reason in the masterly speech which we print on our first page in this issue. The facts that he presents are damning, but the perpetrator, and not the historian is responsible for that. When the people of this country consent to forget Andersonville or to bestow unsolicited honors upon the man responsible for its barbarities, they will have proved unworthy of the patriots who through fire and blood and torture upheld the National integrity, and they will deserve the contempt now hissed at them by unrepentant conspirators, whom they have too generously re-invested with power for mischief.

FACTS FOR UNION SOLDIERS.

LOYALTY PUNISHED AND TREASON REWARDED.

When the House of Representatives organized, the Democracy found a few positions filled by old and trustworthy Republican officials within their reach. The haste to decapitate the old officers and the material used to fill their places, furnish a striking illustration of what may be expected when the direction of affairs passes into the control of that party. The following list of names comprises the old and the new officers of the House of Representatives.

Henry Sherwood, the old Postmaster, was a member of the Michigan cavalry, was in every engagement from Perryville to Kenesaw Mountain, and lost a leg at Latimer's Mills. He was in the command which captured Davis. The man who succeeds him is J. M. Stewart, of Alexandria, Va., who was a Major in the Confederate Army.

The old Assistant Postmaster, Joseph F. Wilson, was a member of the Illinois Infantry, a Corporal, and at the battle of Fort Donelson had the entire lower jaw bone shot away, which destroys mastication, though he is enabled to articulate by means of an artificial jaw-bone, or rather rubber. Upon partially recovering from what was supposed to be a mortal wound, he was breveted Major of Volunteers and appointed Assistant-Postmaster of the Forty-third Congress. He was the first man to be removed by the new Postmaster, a few moments after the latter was elected. Mr. Wilson is succeeded by Edgar Snowdon, of Alexandria, who was in the Confederate Army in the capacity of war correspondent.

The following list of subordinates illustrates the old and the new way of filling the positions of responsibility and profit under the Government:

THE REPUBLICAN ROLL.

The Old Force—Norman Cramp, Vermont; A. M. Legg, New York, two years in Union Army; F. A. Wardell, Massachusetts, four years in the Union Army and permanently disabled at Winchester; J. H. Paine, Ohio, was in the Union Army; G. M. Thomas, Iowa; R. P. Bishop, Michigan, lost an arm in the Union Army; R. S. McMichael, Wisconsin, nearly lost his sight in Union Army; D. B. Bradley, Wisconsin, three years in Union Army; C. H. Lytle, New York; W. B. Sessions, New York; J. D. Severn, Pennsylvania; D. F. Bishop, Pennsylvania; W. Fudge, District of Columbia; Cripl. Palmer, District of Columbia.

THE DEMOCRATIC ROLL.

The New Force—George W. Beck, Virginia, in Confederate Army; Henry Cook, Virginia, in Confederate Army; Richard Allen, Virginia; S. W. Kennedy, Virginia, in Confederate Army; A. W. C. Newlin, Virginia, in Confederate Army; Edward C. Sloss, Virginia; W. H. Robinson, Virginia, in Confederate Army; J. R. Fisher, Virginia, in Confederate Army; P. S. Goodell, Virginia; W. B. Lowery, Virginia, in Confederate Army; Joseph M. Taylor, Virginia; Edwin Este, Virginia, in Confederate Army; Thomas Kirby, Connecticut, in Union Army.

A BITTER CONFEDERATE SPEECH.

The Boston Journal's Washington special thus refers to the defiant and insulting speech of the notorious Ben. Hill, ex-member of the Confederate Senate, as delivered in the House on Tuesday:

The House was the witness of a strange scene to-day. It was a scene to make one forget that secession was a crime, or that there has been a civil war. The noted Ben Hill, of Georgia, a prominent leader in the Southern Confederacy, appeared as the eulogist of Jeff. Davis. It was a speech which most Union soldiers will read with amazement. Protesting that he was a citizen of the whole country, his speech served to show how different the sentiment of the South and North still is. He drew the line very sharply, and always spoke of the South as if it was a distinct nation. The attempt of his speech was to show that there were no atrocities at Andersonville, that if there were the North was responsible for them in that it refused exchange of prisoners and at the worst the barbarities of that Southern prison were gentle compared to the sufferings of Confederate soldiers in Northern prisons.

Mr. Hill excused Jeff. Davis of any complicity in the Andersonville horrors, ignorance of the fact that Republican speakers have at hand, soon to be produced, documents from the Confederate archives, of officers who had inspected Andersonville, upon which non-interference is indorsed in Jeff. Davis' own hand-writing. Hill made Jeff. Davis the moral superior of Grant. He insisted that Union soldiers at Andersonville received the same treatment as Confederate soldiers there, notwithstanding the Confederate war records show a death rate of one in three persons among the Union prisoners, and of one in four hundred among the Confederate soldiery. He grew warm as he proceeded, but there was one point where he wavered.

Blaine read to him a resolution introduced in the Confederate Congress by Hill when Senator there, in which he declared that the presence of any Northern soldier on Southern soil after the emancipation proclamation should be accepted as conclusive of the fact that such soldier intended murder and made punishable with death. Hill at first hardly had the manliness to acknowledge the ownership of the resolution, but having done it he continued his defiance of the North. He characterized the New England sentiment which had controlled the country as a higher-law fanaticism which never kept a pledge nor obeyed a law, and said that the South had come back to the Union to stay and compel that that fanaticism to obey the law and to live in accordance with the Constitution.

Turning to the Republican side he said that the South went out of the Union hugging the Constitution, that it had come back hugging the Constitution and that it had no concessions to make.

We recently quoted from the Rockland Free Press, with due credit, a paragraph beginning as follows:

"The Bridgton News intimates that Gen. Cilley and Sumner J. Chadbourne would make the offices at the State House loafing places for pot-house politicians."

Mr. Shorey, the editor of the News, writes us disclaiming any intentional disrespect toward those gentlemen, and we are quite willing to state his interpretation of his own meaning. He also asks us to say, however, that the above item "in letter and spirit is absolutely and malignantly false," and that we certainly shall not do. The editorial passage in the News referred to by the Free Press, was in an article zealously advocating the election of Gen. Murray and Gov. Perham in preference to the other candidates for the two State offices involved, and as one of his arguments the editor declared that with the election of those persons "the people may rest assured that the public offices at the State House are not being used as loafing places for pot-house politicians." We think our Rockland contemporary was amply justified in construing that—as every one but the editor of the News has construed it—as a very obvious "intimation" that the election of the opposing candidates would involve the state of things referred to. If it did not mean that, it meant nothing, and if the editor of the News employs language without appreciating its purport he must not complain because readers judge its meaning by the ordinary standards. If he thought no danger of encouraging "pot-house politicians" was involved, there was no sense in bandying the epithet, and if he is now ashamed of it, that affords an indication that he will in future try to find out what he does mean before putting offensive expressions in print.

When Ben Hill, of Georgia, denounced the Republican party as fanatics and declared that martyrs owed apologies to tyrants, he made what Mr. Holman termed "a G—— pretty confederate idea of it."

The Portland Argus and other untrustworthy newspapers have been circulating a foolish squib to the effect that Mr. Nealley, of this city had intended to offer a license bill in the House, but was prevented by political associates. The invention is hardly worth contradicting, but we will simply step on it by stating that Mr. Nealley never had any intention of offering a license bill and that no one of his party, at Augusta or elsewhere, ever made any remark to him with reference to such action on his part. The report is simply a canard, like the most of what appears in Democratic organs.

The Portland Press, in calling attention to the report of Hon. S. C. Hatch, State Treasurer, says: "The State finances are in good condition and if Mr. Hatch's policy is followed out they will continue so. Mr. Hatch is a conspicuously vigilant and intelligent official, and the Legislature will do well to thoroughly consider his suggestions."

The Worcester Spy says of Mr. Blaine's amnesty amendment excluding Jeff Davis: This single exception is made not because he is dangerous, but because it is reasonable and proper that the representative man of the rebellion should be left under formal censure. All this is aside from the responsibility for the cruelties of the prison pens at Andersonville and elsewhere, which it is said can be fixed upon Davis personally, and which would be abundant reason for continuing his disabilities.

LETTER FROM WASHINGTON.

DEMOCRACY IN THE DEPTHS—DISLOYALTY REWARDED AND PATRIOTISM AT A DISCOUNT—THE SCHOOL AND PATRONAGE DILEMMA—INCREASING PRESTIGE OF MR. BLAINE, ETC.

[FROM AN OCCASIONAL CORRESPONDENT.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 10, 1876.

To the Editor of the Whig and Courier.

The humiliating depths to which the Democratic party has sunk is pretty clearly shown by its attitude towards our public school system and by the selections made to replace decapitated Republican officials in the House. "Halting between two opinions" precisely expresses the situation of its representation here, and resorting to equivocations when interrogated touching those matters is proof that they comprehend their dilemma, to some extent. If they favor the adoption of the Blaine amendment a fatal offence is offered to the Roman Catholic priesthood and laity; if they oppose it, quite as grave a defection among their present adherents who dislike the Republican party less than they hate and fear that sect which they believe is plotting for the destruction of our common schools, looks them squarely in the face.

DISTRIBUTION OF FAVORS.

Likewise with the appointments. If they refuse the lion's share of the offices within their gift to ex-rebels an unpardonable affront is offered to a majority of their party; if they do not refuse, the loyal sentiment of the country is shocked and outraged, and it occurs to reflecting minds that if this party is, as it professes to be, sincerely repentant for its treasonable work, the appointment of Democrats who testified their love for the Union during the war by their works would be more consistent in the premises than filling those places by men whose only recommendations are their achievements as rebel soldiers and abettors.

BACK SEATS FOR LOYAL MEN.

That the positions have been largely filled—incontinently "gobbled up" and monopolized with and by the latter class is now a matter of record, and the fact brings out in a very clear light the inherent hypocrisy of Democratic pretensions and also shows that all loyal men, irrespective of party affiliations would be assigned back seats in the redistribution which would follow a Democratic triumph in our next Presidential contest. The madness of protracted abstinence, and a madness which often precedes destruction rules the hour, and it is apparent that many patriotic Democrats now regard the "tidal wave" of 1874 which swept such a flood of the debris of the rebellion into Congress as a great calamity to their party, as well as to the Nation.

DEVOTED PATRIOTS SEEKING LOAVES AND FISHES.

The devotion to country of the Spartan mothers appears insignificant and unworthy of mention, contrasted with the virtue of the "Mother of Presidents" in offering such hordes of her distinguished sons to the service of their country in the South Chamber of the Capital this winter. They came by scores and hundreds—a restless army—from her tide-water regions, from her plains and from mountains; and she seems in her maturity just as prolific in "statesmen" as in the early years of the Republic, and the cheerful alacrity with which these worthy sons have entered upon their work of immolation, shows how willing the South is to forgive us and to be conciliated when we go about it in the proper way. But invidious comparisons are especially out of place during these centennial times and it must be recorded that all of the late "Confederate" States have evinced a like spirit of self-sacrifice and abnegation. Even far-off Texas has generously furnished more than her quota of these ambitious martyrs. But the cynical are never at a loss for causes of complaint, and the misanthropic and groveling-minded among us show their lack of kindness and good manners by stigmatizing them as cormorants and buzzards and likening them in their habits to the gluttonous potato-bug.

THE REPUBLICAN LEADER.

The little tournament between ex-Speaker Blaine and Fernando Wood during the first days of the session, in which that doughty New York Knight was so promptly unhorsed, has not been forgotten; and had not Mr. Randall's friends interfered by demanding the regular order when they saw his distress, it is very probable that he would have shared a like fate at the hands of our Augusta representative during last Thursday's proceedings. The Democrats regard Mr. Blaine as a very good man to let alone and keep away from. This appreciation of his character is not always intuitive, but often comes from reflection while taking account of personal damages after some encounter with that gentleman on the floor of the House.

THE NATIONAL CONVENTIONS—BLAINE FOR STANDARD-BEARER.

Strenuous efforts are being made to secure the meeting of the two nominating Conventions in this city and liberal subscriptions for making the necessary preparations have been obtained. Republicans hope this Convention may meet as early as practicable, that ample time may be had to thoroughly ventilate the winter's work of the ex-Confederate House and other Democratic misdemeanors, which need attention. While there is some reticence among professional politicians relative to the probable candidates, the preference of a very large number of the rank and file among the Republicans are toward Mr. Blaine as the best living exponent of the progressive aims of the great national party which they hope [illegible] to lead to victory during our centennial campaign of 1876.

New Era in Cookery.

The great and long felt want of housekeepers for suitable cooking vessels, is at last supplied by PATENT GRANITE IRON WARE, acknowledged at sight to be without a rival in the kitchen. It is light, easily cleaned, handsome, wholesome, and handy. It will neither corrode and poison, like copperware, crack, like cast iron or earthenware, or crackle and flake off, like porcelain-lined ware. Every piece warranted. Beware of imitations, as every piece is stamped, "Granite Ironware," on the bottom. A good line will be found for sale wholesale and retail by State Temperance Convention.

The temperance men and women of Maine, of all religious, political and temperance organizations, and those not connected with either, are invited to meet at Meonian Hall, in Augusta, on WEDNESDAY, January 19th, 1876, at 11 o'clock A. M., for the purpose of holding a Mass Temperance Convention.

This being the centennial year of our national existence, it is highly important and fitting that we should meet in Convention and declare ourselves free and independent of King Alcohol, and take every means in our power to declare against him a war of utter extermination.

Among the many questions that it may be proper [illegible] following are important:—"What [illegible] aid the reform clubs in their noble [illegible] can we encourage and help those who are organizing crusade movements on christian temperance societies?" THE STATE CAPITAL

Wednesday's Proceedings in the Legislature—The Vote of Penobscot County for Senators—The School Committee of Bangor—Bank Robbers and Tramps—Personal, Etc, Etc

AUGUSTA, Jan 12. The business of the Legislature to-day was disposed of so promptly that sessions took place in both branches. Senator Wheelwright of [illegible] was present for the first time, and [illegible] took his seat at the [illegible] board. The House gave the Bridge-[illegible] Benj. H. Chase (Dem.) who was sworn in. The Penobscot [illegible] make their annual report for an appropriation for agricultural and school purposes.

Corporations

[illegible] offered by Mr Porter of Burlington, for the appointment of a joint select committee to take into consideration the [illegible] imposed upon the Legislature by [illegible] amendments to the Constitution relating [illegible] corporations, the following were appointed by Speaker Rolfe on part of the House: Messrs. Pike of Calais, Talbot of [illegible], Porter of Burlington, [illegible] of Skowhegan, Rogers of Bath, Eastman of Saco, Chase of Bridgton. The Senate will join to-morrow.

An Iron Company

A bill was presented to incorporate the [illegible] Iron Company, with a capital of $[illegible]. The persons named as corporators are Albert P. Gould, O. W. Davis, [illegible] Smith, Joseph [illegible] Moore and John [illegible].

The Death Penalty

A petition was presented praying for the abolition of the death penalty and imprisonment for life substituted. The petition came from citizens of Cherryfield. More will follow.

Bank Robbers

Legislation is asked for with a view to arresting bank robbers, by giving authority to the Attorney General to offer rewards for their detection.

Tramps

An order of inquiry was passed calling for a bill to be reported to protect the people against tramps.

Senatorial Vote of Penobscot County

The official vote for Senators in the 10th District as reported by the Committee on Senatorial votes, is as follows:

Whole number of votes	17,425
[illegible]	[illegible]
George R. Thurlough had	7,154
Joseph S. Wheelwright	7,154
Thomas J. Peakes	7,142
Alexander Webb	7,152
John S. I[illegible]	6,200
[illegible] Jones	6,235
[illegible] W. Hill	6,090
[illegible] W. Towle	6,[illegible]
Scattering	151

and Messrs. Thurlough, Wheelwright, Peakes and Webb are elected.

Claim Against the State

Mr. Pike of Calais presented a resolve providing for the payment of $2,670 17 to Joseph Granger of Calais as damages and costs against the State, recovered of Peter Avery, Indian Agent, and other Indian agents on account of the use of [illegible] in [illegible] river. It was referred to the Committee on Claims.

City Schools of Bangor

A bill was presented by Mr Neally of Bangor to amend the act of last year relative to the schools of that city. It amends Sec. 1 by inserting after the words "shall consist of" in the second line thereof, the following words: "Not less than three nor more than seven", so that the Section will read:

Sec. 1. The Superintending School Committee of the City of Bangor shall consist of not less than three nor more than seven members to be elected by the City Council.

Jurisdiction of Municipal Courts

A petition was presented asking for the enlargement of the jurisdiction of Municipal Courts and Trial Justices so as to punish persons for violating school laws by fine or imprisonment.

Protection of Fish.

Petitions were presented for the protection of fish in Pushaw pond near Bangor and Hermon pond in Hermon.

Pike's Interest Bill

which was referred in the House to the Judiciary Committee, has been sent to the Committee on Financial Affairs by the Senate on motion of Mr. Haskell, (Dem.) The bill will be killed but Pike will make his speech, nevertheless.

Economy in Public Expenditures

The Senate concurred with the House in passing to be engrossed the resolve of Mr Talbot (Dem.) in favor of economy in public expenditures. The Democratic minority cannot possibly get ahead of the Republicans in any and every effort, consistent with the public interests, to cut down our public expenditures to the correct figure.

Unorganized Savings Banks.

Senator Wheelwright of Bangor introduced an order requesting the Committee on Banks and Banking to report on the expediency of repealing all charters heretofore granted to Savings banks and banking institutions which have not at this date organized and commenced business, excepting one with Cumberland County Savings Bank. The order was passed.

Propagation of Fish

A communication was sent to the Legislature by Gov. Connor transmitting a letter from Hon. Hamilton Fish, Secretary of State of the United States, endorsing a copy of a communication from Sir Edward Thornton, Minister of Great Britain, at Washington relative to legislation for the protection and increase of fish frequenting in common the frontier waters of the United States and Canada. The communication was referred to the Committee on Federal Relations.

A New Town.

Senator Thurlough of Penobscot presented a petition for the incorporation of the town of Lakeville.

Work of Committees

Some of the principal committees have begun their labors of the session and will endeavor to keep their dockets as clean as possible.

The Industrial School.

The Trustees of the Industrial School for Girls will ask the Legislature for an appropriation to defray the running expenses of the institution for the ensuing year.

Personal.

Mr. Pike of Calais, leaves for home to-morrow, on a short visit occasioned by his business engagements.

Adj. Gen. Cilley entered upon his duties to-day. Gen. Murray his predecessor, before retiring, was presented with an elegant album by the two clerks in the office, Maj. Gallagher making the presentation with appropriate remarks. T.

DOMESTIC NEWS

FORTY FOURTH CONGRESS—First Session

Senate

WASHINGTON, Jan 12.

Mr. Conkling presented a petition of the citizens of New York asking an amendment to the Constitution of the United States prohibiting the appropriation of money or property for any purpose directly or indirectly to any religious body or sect. Referred to the Judiciary Committee.

After the expiration of the morning hour the Senate resumed the consideration of the resolution reported on Monday last in regard to the President pro tempore of the Senate, the pending question being on the motion of Mr. Thurman to indefinitely postpone the resolution declaring that the office of President pro tempore of the Senate is held at the pleasure of the Senate.

Mr. Edmunds of Vt., spoke against the postponed resolution. He argued that the President pro tem could be removed at the pleasure of the Senate.

House

At 2 o'clock the House resumed the consideration of the Amnesty bill and was addressed by Mr. Garfield of Ohio. He yielded to Mr. Wood of N. Y. to make an inquiry as to the continuance of the debate. He remarked that over a thousand bills had been introduced and almost none passed. He understood that twenty three gentlemen had indicated their intention to speak on the Amnesty bill. He wished the debate should terminate as soon as possible so that the House might proceed to necessary business.

Mr. Randall of Pa. said he proposed to move the previous question in an hour after Mr. Garfield should conclude.

Mr. Blaine claimed that under the rules, he himself and not Mr. Randall, had control of the question.

The Speaker said he would rule upon that point when the occasion should arise.

Mr. Garfield commenced his remarks on the bill which the debate, especially of yesterday, had taken.

Mr. Garfield spoke at length and with great force in defence of the conduct of the war by the Federal Government and insisting that Jeff Davis was shown by the record to have been the conscious author of the horrible work at Andersonville. He declared that the American people still hold him unfit to be admitted among the legislators of the Nation.

Mr. Platt of N. Y. read a telegram from the Commander of the Federal Prison at Elmira, confirming his absolute denial of any ill treatment of prisoners.

Mr. Walker of N. Y. a Democrat arose and said he lived within 17 miles of Elmira and endorsed the statements in the telegram. (Applause on the Republican side.)

Mr. Seelye of Mass., opposed the exclusion of Jeff. Davis but favored Mr. Blaine's proposition that those amnestied should take an oath of allegiance and the least that could be required of them.

A parliamentary discussion ensued as to whether Mr. Blaine, being the introducer of the matter before the House, should have the right of reply. A compromise was finally made by which Mr. Blaine is to speak an hour to-morrow and then call the previous question. The House then at 4.30 adjourned.

NEW HAMPSHIRE.

The Democratic State Convention

CONCORD, Jan 12. The Democratic State Convention was called to order at 11.15 this morning in White's Opera House by Geo. F. Putnam, Chairman of the State Committee. Thanks were first tendered to Nathaniel White for the free use of the Opera House. The call was then read and the list of officers for the permanent organization followed. The officers of the Convention having taken seats upon the platform, Wm. W. Bailey of Nashua, the President then resumed the chair. The committees on credentials and resolutions were appointed. The former reported there were no contested seats and 675 delegates were present.

The Resolutions Adopted.

Hon. Wm. Butterfield, on behalf of the Committee on Resolutions, reported resolutions affirming that the Democrats of New Hampshire accept as final the settlement of the issues of the war, the binding force of the Constitutional amendments, that the party has been always as it now is the advocate of a sound currency convertible into coin at the will of the holder, that the present currency and deplorable evils are the work of the Republican party, that they believe a speedy return to specie payment is demanded alike by the considerations of commercial morality and honest government and such legislative policy as will tend to this result should be adopted, that all the present ills of the country are due to the Republican party; that the Democratic party favors a tariff for revenue only; that a third term would be dangerous, that the Republican majority in the House of the last Legislature placed themselves as champions of political corruption; that they welcome the present movement in behalf of temperance; that they indorse the action of the Governor and Council and the course of the Senate and courts in organizing the Senate last June, and condemn the course of the Republican leaders; that they commend the nominees to the support and confidence of the people.

Balloting for Candidates.

The reports of these Committees were accepted and the Convention proceeded to ballot for candidates for Governor and Railroad Commissioner. At this point Geo. F. Putnam read a communication from Hon. Hiram R. Roberts, withdrawing from the contest this year. Hon. Daniel Marcy of Portsmouth, was then nominated for Governor on the first ballot and the nomination was made unanimous. Thomas Dinsmore was also nominated for Railroad Commissioner on the first ballot and the nomination made unanimous. After a resolution of thanks the Convention dissolved.

A NEW SONG. We have received from Messrs. Patten & Wheelden, publishers a very pretty and promising piece of music entitled "Rose Sweet Roses are Dying," and composed by W. R. McQuown, of this city. The song is dedicated to the Amateur Minstrels, and is a part of the extravaganza "Hanging of the Crane" which they intend to present to the public before many days. This beautiful song will undoubtedly become very popular with Bangoreans. We are proud that we have a composer in our midst of so much real merit and worth.

Rev. S. P. Fay was at Hallowell on Tuesday the 11th inst. to attend as a member of the Council convened to consider the question of the dismissal of Rev. C. G. McCully from the Congregational church in that place in order that he may accept a call from the Congregational church in Calais. After the consideration of the subject the Council voted that the resignation of Mr. McCully be accepted. He will go to Calais about the middle of February. Until the pulpit is supplied by Rev. H. V. Emmons of Hallowell.

SOCIABLE AT PITTSFIELD. Last Tuesday evening the Methodists of Pittsfield held a sociable in their new chapel and it was completely filled. The exercises consisted of declamations, readings and tableaux interspersed with fine music. The citizens of Pittsfield presented twenty dollars to the pastor, Rev. The Dro Gerrish. He expressed his gratitude in a very feeling manner. A supper was served and heartily enjoyed. After supper speeches were made by [illegible] Manson, M. D. F. C. Bryant and A. D. Hall, of Pittsfield, and Mr. Jones, of St. Albans. The whole was a grand success and all went home very much pleased.

THE DUTY TEST. The result of the duty test, made by Messrs. Gaskell and Butrick last Tuesday, is as follows: The test was three hours and five minutes in length, during which time the pumps made 2[illegible] revolutions, the four pumps being connected. The total average load upon the piston [illegible] per inch was 101 3-10 pounds. The total number of foot pounds raised during the test was 639,297,319. The amount of coal consumed was 880 pounds. The duty obtained was 67,270,500 foot pounds for every hundred pounds of coal consumed. The coal used was Lehigh, broken. This is considered a very good test, and much beyond the average. Another test was made yesterday of five hours in length.

CAMP FIRE TO-NIGHT. All the arrangements for the camp fire to-night are progressing admirably, and are quite complete. The Grand Army boys intend to have the jolliest time ever held in Bangor since that famous antiquarian supper of thirty years ago. The invited guests will meet at the Common Council room at 7.30 P. M. and the invited ex soldiers will meet at the rooms of the Post at the same hour. Supper will not be served until 8.30 as some of the guests will arrive on the evening train. There are three toasts to be responded to and these interspersed with jokes, songs and conundrums will occupy a good part of the evening. The members of the Post are requested to meet at their rooms at 7 o'clock prompt.

FROM CALAIS. Our Calais correspondent writes that since the impetus given the temperance cause there last fall by Mrs. Kent Mason it has continued with increased zeal and the weekly meetings in the Opera House are full in attendance and interest. Temperance songs, declamations and readings are given at each meeting besides the usual address. Tuesday evening Rev. W. W. Lovejoy, of the Union Church gave the address, and at the close W. J. Corthell, Esq., was called upon to speak and as ever was ready to respond. The audience was pleased to hear him as was manifested by the hearty applause that greeted him. After a few well chosen remarks which went straight home he resumed his seat while the audience was beginning to feel the spirit of his words.

Police Court.

In the Police Court yesterday John Crowley was fined $20 and costs on two warrants for fast driving, and $10 and costs for drunkenness. The whole amount of the fines and costs is $53 97.

Penobscot County Conference.

The Penobscot County Conference of Congregational Churches held its semi annual session with the First church in Brewer, January 11 1876. Rev. J. C. Pond, of Hampden, was chosen Moderator, and W. G. Duren, of Bangor, Scribe. At the opening session, 10 A. M., devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. Dr. Thurston, of Searsport.

Prof. Paine, in behalf of the committee of arrangements, reported the order of service, and desired that the topics and discussions might serve to bring to a practical point the fundamental principles of the Gospel. After a session of conference and prayer, the first question, "Is there a spiritual harvest awaiting us, and how can we best gather it?" was introduced with remarks by Rev. C. H. Wheeler, Prof. Paine, W. F. Bickford, Dea. G. A. Thatcher, Profs. Fernald and Farrington, of Orono, and many others took part in the discussion.

At 2 P. M., the conference sermon was preached by Rev. G. W. Field, D. D. Text, 7 Ecc. 10—"Say not thou, what is the cause that the former days were better than these." Reference was made to the interesting fact that the church, with whom they met, was entering upon the seventy-sixth year of its existence. It was the first church organized in the county, and many interesting facts were referred to, in its history. The preacher showed where-in progress had been made during the past seventy-five years. The ordinance of the Lord's Supper was next administered by Prof. J. S. Sewall and Rev. W. R. Cross, of Orono.

At 4 P. M., delegates reported from the several churches they represented. Sixteen churches are connected with the Conference.

In the evening the subject for discussion was, "What should be our method of Christian effort for bringing the young into the church?" The discussion was participated in by Messrs. Rogers and Jones, of the Seminary, Farrington of Holden, Dr. Warren, Thurston and others.

A vote of thanks to the church in Brewer was passed, for their kind and generous treatment of the conference. Dea. Snow responded in behalf of the church.

A meeting of ladies was held after the adjournment, in behalf of the Women's Board of Missions.

The next meeting of the conference will be held at Orono, on the second Tuesday of next June.

It seems that they are likely to get an ex-Confederate in the Speaker's chair after all. The Democratic papers are now alluding to Mr. Kerr's delicate health and announcing that Mr. Lamar, an ex Colonel from Mississippi is to be chosen Speaker pro tem. What loyal man would have believed such a prophecy ten years ago?

A Washington special says Mr. Blaine has succeeded in placing the Amnesty bill before the House so that it is an affirmative Republican measure which proposes amnesty to every man in the South except one. The Democrats seem embarrassed at the situation as by voting against Mr. Blaine's substitute they will vote against amnesty.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP, SEA WEED TONIC AND MANDRAKE PILLS. These deservedly celebrated and popular medicines have effected a revolution in the healing art, and proved the fallacy of several maxims which have for many years obstructed the progress of medical science. The false supposition that "Consumption is incurable" deterred physicians from attempting to find remedies for that disease, and patients afflicted with it reconciled themselves to death without making an effort to escape from a doom which they supposed to be unavoidable. It is now proved however, that Consumption can be cured and that it has been cured in a very great number of cases (some of them apparently desperate ones) by Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup alone, and in other cases by the same medicine in connection with Schenck's Sea Weed Tonic and Mandrake Pills, one or both according to the requirements of the case.

Dr. Schenck himself, who enjoyed uninterrupted good health for more than forty years, was supposed at one time to be at the very gate of death, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless, and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Dr. Schenck unless patients wish their lungs examined and for this purpose he is professionally at his principal office, Corner Sixth and Arch Sts., Philadelphia, every Monday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. Schenck's medicines are sold by all druggists. eod1m jan1

PIANOS

The modern improved 7 1-3 octave Square Grand Pianoforte is a splendid instrument, and is

The Piano to Buy.

I am selling first class Pianos of this description for $350 to 400 according to style of case. I warrant these fully equal in tone, action and durability, to any Pianos made, and far superior to most of the Pianos which dealers are asking $450 to $600 for, (most of which are only 7 octave, and are not made in the improved modern scale) and I challenge the most critical examination and comparison. I have some good bargains now in second hand Pianos.

One 7 Octave Rosewood carved legs handsome, cost $450 six months ago, for 210—a great bargain.

One 7 1-3 Octave Rosewood carved legs cost 700, for $250

Parlor Organs.

5 Octave double reed Organs with 7 stops in elegant cases,

FOR $120.

I guarantee these equal to any organs made and offered at $150 to $175 by most dealers.

A Welcome in Every Family Circle

THE ONLY MORNING DAILY

East of the Kennebec.

Our Daily ... affords the principal medium of communication with the largest ... number of readers through ... Central and Eastern Maine.

OUR WEEKLY

Is also the largest and best Weekly Newspaper in the State. Every number accompanied by a two-page Supplement, making a paper of FORTY EIGHT columns or one-half larger than any other Weekly. It is a standard publication with large and constantly increasing circulation among the most intelligent and thrifty of the population of Eastern Maine, and the small space devoted to advertising is eagerly sought by the best class of patrons.

NOW IS THE TIME TO SUBSCRIBE For 1876.

New subscribers remitting the full price for either paper for one year will receive the copies from date of subscription to the 1st of January 1876 in addition to the complete issues to January 1, 1877.

TERMS--Invariably in Advance:

Daily--$8 per annum, $4 for 6 mos, $2 for 3 mos.

Weekly--$2 per annum, $1 for 6 mos, 50c. 3 mos.

The new postal law compelling prepayment of postage imposes a heavy burden on the publishers, but we have decided to make no advance upon our established subscription price, and will send the paper

POSTAGE FREE,

Making a saving of $1 20 per annum for each of our Daily, and 20 cents per annum to each of our Weekly subscribers.

CLUBBING WITH MAGAZINES.

Subscribers will be furnished with either our Daily or Weekly paper and any of the favorite Periodicals or Magazines at their lowest Club rates. In offering these advantages we hope to be sustained by a liberal patronage.
